

Important Information on 2022 Nominations

The Nominations Process

Members of the Synod Nominations Committee are continuing the process from previous synods, which allows Moravians in the Southern Province to submit suggestions of qualified persons for consideration and a process by which a person can offer his or her name for consideration as a nominee for various Provincial Boards, PEC, and Unity Synod. The Committee has posted information, plus online and printable nominating forms on the Province's website (www.mcsp.org). The nomination opportunities have been publicized through bulletin inserts, email announcements, and the Province's newsletter, Provincial Ties. After the December 20th deadline for submission of names, the committee will work together to determine which of the many qualified and deserving candidates should be chosen to be on the ballot. Those people will then be contacted for their approval, and finally a nominations booklet will be created so it can be sent to each synod delegate in early April.
