UNITY PRAYER DAY and OFFERING

Each year Moravian churches around the world celebrate the founding of the Unitas Fratrum (March 1, 1457) and receive a special "Unity Offering" for an important project or cause somewhere in the Moravian world. Sunday, March 6, 2022 is the Day of Prayer for Unity Work. Congregations are invited to pray for our worldwide church and to receive a special offering. This year the Unity Prayer Day Offering will benefit "Support of Refugee Resettlement in North America", a work done by the American Board of World Mission (ABWM) together with congregations of the Moravian Church, Southern and Northern Province, North America. The project assists refugees in their transition from their native homelands to their new homes in North America. After gathering contributions, congregations may send one check to the Provincial Finance Office clearly indicating that it is for the Unity Offering.

Update from the Commission on Congregational Development February 2022

We are settling into our new spaces and would love to have you drop by for a tour or to check out items from the resource center. Many of you may have already seen this short video from December 2021 just before we moved our offices from the Boys' school to Cedarhyrst, but I wanted to share it in case you missed it. There will be more videos coming with some "after" shots and a virtual tour of the new space! To keep up with those updates, subscribe to the Essentials ENews here.
<https://youtu.be/SO21x2FS0B8>

As we move into 2022 we are looking forward to introducing the Commission members, an updated website and new online library catalogue for the resource center where we will share some of the ideas that are bubbling up for congregational development.

- I am still scheduling meetings with folks to hear about the things that you and your congregations are working towards and what it might look like to support you. Please reach out and we can set up a time to chat via Zoom or in person.
- There will be a Mini-Leadership Focus with the roll out of our updated website during the week of February 21-26, 2022.
- Walter Bishop is working with us to assess and evaluate the Regional Conferences of Churches so please make time to speak with him and share your experiences so that we can benefit from learning and improve this aspect of our shared ministry.
- We are also beginning the Spring Quadrennial Review processes with Rolling Hills, Prince of Peace, Fulp, Fairview, Home, King, and New Philadelphia.

Feel free to email me at rcraver@mcp.org or call the office at 336-722-8126 with thoughts, questions, and hopes you have for the future!

“Now this is eternal life: that they know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent...My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, that all of them may be one.” John 17&ff

In the short devotion “52 Hebrew Words Every Christian Should Know”, Dave Adamson reminds his readers that Hebrew words go well beyond their spoken pronunciation with multiple meanings.

One such term is “Shalom” or peace, which we regularly think of as the absence of trouble or anxiety in our daily existence. However, something like “whole” or “complete” may be closer to the mark. For this particular expression, Adamson suggests “being absolutely integrated with God and others” may be the best consideration of its intended meaning.

What caught my attention about this specific understanding is the author’s observation that in ancient Jewish culture, “peace was valued more than truth.” In other words, “to be unified with God and others is more important than to be right.”

Eventually, he advocates that the truth can be elusive because when we are deeply divided we find difficulty in just talking with each other. As it relates to some of the most pressing matters in our culture and our churches this feels accurate.

To some extent, the middle ground where understanding can often occur has been disparaged in recent years. When this happens the peace that can lead to truth grieves and antagonism is placed between ourselves and our brothers and sisters in the faith.

It has been said that there can often be unintended consequences for just having conversations about some of our most pressing issues facing the church. However, usually this is noted in a negative way, mainly because this is frequently the experience that we garner from such conversations. In our partisanship, of whatever side, of whatever issue one might be aligned, the struggle to stay in community is real.

But, does it have to be this way? Can we bring a new civility or peace (shalom) to our conversations?

Maybe this is why the admonitions of the High Priestly Prayer appear so urgent for the Christian Community today. In that moment, the Lord prayed for three realities: to be returned to the Father in glory, protection for His disciples and their coming persecution for being aligned with him, and for all those who would eventually follow (us) that we might be bonded together.

In this season of Epiphanies may the power of the One we serve bind us close as we seek to find our collective way in Him!

Shalom,

Chris

PEC News February 2022

The Provincial Elders' Conference met on January 6 in person and via Zoom on January 21, with all members participating. As with every meeting, PEC spent time in devotion and prayer for our congregations, ministers, and members. In addition, PEC met with the Provincial Organization Core Team at a separate time to receive and discuss a report of their ongoing work. The topics of our meetings included:

Congregational Development: received updates on the formation of the commission; reviewed the schedule of quadrennial reviews for spring 2022; discussed call processes relating to Ardmore, Hopewell, Bethabara, Leaksville, Hope, Union Cross; received updates from the various emerging ministries (The Table, Estamos Unidos, The Dwelling, Anthony's Plot, Come and Worship); discussed the activities and leadership for the Florida-Georgia RCC, in particular the challenges and opportunities for the South Florida Pastorate.

Commission on Ministry: received updates regarding current and potential candidates for ministry; received an update on the most recently-formed First Call Cohort (there have been others in past years); discussed a request for appointment to Specialized Ministry; discussed clergy coaching relating to new and emerging ministries.

Synod Planning and Implementation: received updates from various areas of synod planning; approved the Synod Planning Committee's request to move the delegate gathering to Saturday, April 23 (it will remain a virtual gathering).

Administration and Finance: received updates from the Salemtowne Board of Trustees and the Archives; discussed some financial and property matters; discussed matters relating to COVID-19 and our congregations.

The Provincial Elders' Conference will meet on February 3 and 17, 2022.
